The Next Season

Summer is quickly ending off the season. While I did a lot of writing for those more as the front of spring approaches. I was able to do a lot of slopes on my mountain bike, and I found my pleasure in the outdoors that I love so much. I was able to explore some of the trails that I hadn’t taken in years, and I found my love for nature renewed.

WINDHAM— Members of the annual Honoring John Goettsche and His Legacy was held on September 29th.

The image of them walking along the highroad, from the Windham Fork, past the weather station, up to the summit of Mountain Park, it was a beautiful day. The sun was shining, and the collective memory (as if its presence in the crowd) was bright.

Honoring John Goettsche and His Legacy

John Goettsche loved his family, his country, and the community of the United States of America.

I am John Goetsche's closest companion.

He was thrust into the military as an early boy and came home from World War II, and his family remained with the military. He served in the United States Air Force and with the United States Air Force Reserve. He served in Korea, where he contracted polio.

He never stopped moving. John was a volunteer for the United States Marine Corps for over 40 years, past commander with the United States Marine Corps, a volunteer Scout cub master. He was the local school board president, a board member of the United Methodist Church and a passionate football fan, traveling with the Stanford Cardinal and the Arizona State University. He was a graduate of the United States Air Force Academy.

John Goettsche was a very special man, and he will be missed by all who knew him. He was a true American hero and a man of honor.

But he never stopped moving. John was a volunteer Scout cub master and the local school board president. He was a board member of the United Methodist Church and a passionate football fan, traveling with the Stanford Cardinal and the Arizona State University.
