Thank you for your support, which is critical to this organization and the community we serve. The 2024 Summer Party will underwrite our award-winning exhibition program, this year presenting Native Prospects: Indigeneity and Landscape, which brings together major Thomas Cole paintings, Native American artifacts, and large-scale installations by contemporary artists.

Native Prospects: Indigeneity and Landscape is curated by Scott Manning Stevens, PhD/ Karoniaktatsie (Akwasasne Mohawk), who is the Director of Native American and Indigenous Studies at Syracuse University. The exhibition and publication are made possible through support from the Terra Foundation for American Art. Major support is provided by David Bury & The Bay and Paul Foundations and the Warner Foundation. Additional support provided by The Cranshaw Corporation, National Endowment for the Arts, Wyeth Foundation for American Art, Maurice D. Hinchey Hudson River Valley National Heritage Area, New York State Council on the Arts with the support of the Office of the Governor and the New York State Legislature, Becky Gochman, Patti Hanson, Greene County Cultural Fund, Kristin Gamble, National Trust Insurance Services, LLC, Bank of Greene County Charitable Fund, and the Kindred Spirits Society of the Thomas Cole National Historic Site. Cover: Kay WalkingStick (Cherokee), Thom, Where Are the Pocumtucks (The Oxbow) (detail), 2020, oil on panel, 24 1/8 x 48 in. Courtesy the artist and Hales Gallery, London and New York.
